

Blinded By Darkness

...is an intriguing and fast-paced mystery set in a small southern town and church.

Holly Creek Christian Church has a caring pastor and a growing congregation. They have outgrown their sanctuary and a generous gift of land from a member has made it possible for them to build a new church.

But someone is going to extraordinary lengths to prevent them from building their new church—with dire and deadly results!

The police are slow to see connections between the events, so Pastor Thomas Wilson becomes a reluctant detective.

Blinded By Darkness (ISBN 0-9778402-4-7) is available from the publisher, Honey Locust Press (<http://www.honeylocustpress.com>) and through major distribution chains in the United States and in the United Kingdom.

Tony Burton is a writer, editor and publisher with degrees in education and literature. He has numerous short story publishing credits in both print and online venues. In addition to this re-release of Blinded By Darkness, he will soon be re-releasing the follow-up novel A Wicked Good Play, and he is presently writing the third book in the Reverend Wilson series, entitled Sanctuary. You can visit his personal web site at <http://www.tonyburton.biz>

Tony always wanted to write fiction and poetry, and in the last few years that desire grew strong enough to overcome his fear of rejection, with gratifying results.

Tony lives in northwest Georgia with his wife Lara and their dog, Buddy.